

Working With Real Estate Agents Disclosure (For Sellers)

IMPORTANT

This form is not a contract. Signing this disclosure only means you have received it.

- In a real estate sales transaction, it is important that you understand whether an agent represents you.
- Real estate agents are required to (1) review this form with you at first substantial contact before asking for or receiving your confidential information and (2) give you a copy of the form after you sign it. This is for your own protection.
- Do not share any confidential information with a real estate agent or assume that the agent is acting on your behalf until you have entered into a written agreement with the agent to represent you. Otherwise, the agent can share your confidential information with others.

Note to Agent: Check all relationship types below	that may apply to this seller.
Seller's Agency (listing agent): The written listing agreement with you before they the listing firm and its agents would then represent with a different real estate firm or be unrepresent.	begin to market your propeesent you. The buyer would	rty for sale. If you sigr	n the listing agreement,
Dual Agency: Dual agency will occuproperty. If you agree in a written agency agree would be permitted to represent you and the byou and the buyer, but the firm and its agents an advantage over the other party. Designated Dual Agency: If you a both you and the buyer, but the firm would debuyer. Each designated agent would be loyal or	ement, the real estate firm, a ouyer at the same time. A du must treat you and the buye agree in a written agency agresignate one agent to represe	nd any agent with the al agent's loyalty would refairly and equally an eement, the real estate	same firm (company), d be divided between d cannot help you gain e firm would represent
Buyer Agent Working with an Unyou this form will not be representing you and share any confidential information with this ag	l has no loyalty to you. The a	•
Note to Seller: For more information on an agen and Answers on: Working With Real Estate Agent. copy of it.
Seller's Signature	Seller's Signature		Date
Agent's Name	Agent's License No.	Firm Name

REC. 4.27 • 4/6/2021

Working With Real Estate Agents Disclosure (For Buyers)

IMPORTANT

This form is not a contract. Signing this disclosure only means you have received it.

- In a real estate sales transaction, it is important that you understand whether an agent represents you.
- Real estate agents are required to (1) review this form with you at first substantial contact before asking for or receiving your confidential information and (2) give you a copy of it after you sign it. This is for your own protection.
- Do not share any confidential information with a real estate agent or assume that the agent is acting on your behalf until you have entered into an agreement with the agent to represent you. Otherwise, the agent can share your confidential information with others.

Note to Agent: Check all relationship types belou	that may apply to this buyer.
Buyer Agency: If you agree, the ages as a buyer agent and be loyal to you. You may buyer agency agreement with you before preparties seller would either be represented by an agency agreement with you before preparties.	begin with an oral agreement, bu aring a written offer to purchase o	or communicating an oral offer for you.
you agree, the real estate firm and any agent w the seller at the same time. A dual agent's loyal agents must treat you and the seller fairly and	rith the same firm (company), wo lty would be divided between you equally and cannot help you gain agree, the real estate firm would re nt you and a different agent to rep	a and the seller, but the firm and its an advantage over the other party.* represent both you and the seller, but present the seller. Each designated agent
Unrepresented Buyer (Seller subate purchase, but will not be representing you and any confidential information with this agent. Note to Buyer: For more information on an agent and Answers on: Working With Real Estate Agent.	I has no loyalty to you. The agent	will represent the seller. Do not share NC Real Estate Commission's "Questions	a copy of it.
Buyer's Signature	Buyer's Signature	Date
Agent's Name	Agent's License No.	Firm Name	